

Diversity & Inclusion Master Class & Certification

A New Demand to HR: Create a Culture of Inclusion

With increased global competition, how do companies attract and retain the greatest talents from a diverse workforce in the 21st century? And when we have succeeded hiring the best how do we create a culture that makes them want to stay?

Because HR is normally in charge of attracting, recruiting and retaining employees within your organization, they are in a perfect position to implement D&I trainings, programs, and initiatives. With so much power to impact change within an organization, HR plays a critical role in the organization's success and sustainability.

The D&I Master Class meets the demands of HR professionals with a key role in introducing and implementing D&I programs in the organization:

- The four elements of the Best Practice D&I Roadmap: Drive, Knowledge, Strategy and Action
- The business case of inclusion and diversity. Buy in from executive management and board of directors
- Mapping the barriers and and low hanging fruits
- Building and implementing D&I training strategies and initiatives

Dates & Duration:

4 consecutive days of training, September 7th to 11th 2020 + company visit on the last day

Target Group

HR professionals and managers working in an environment with a high degree of diversity - or with an ambition to do so

Number of participants: 10-14

Language: English

Fee: €3,600 for four days of training, company visit on day five, teaching materials, manual, meals, coffee/tea and snacks + vat if applicable

The program consists of 3 modules conducted over 4 consecutive days + company visit on day 5

The 3 module program can be fitted into already existing D&I programs with a simple plug-and-play solution tailored to reach your company's goals

Program:

Module #1

The Best Practice D&I Roadmap

The four components that will do the job

- Drive – the business case and bottom line and the push from the top. Gap analysis – map the gaps and set the goals
- Knowledge – identify the solutions, the initiatives, the diversity dimensions, best practice, science and the stakeholders in your organization
- Strategy – design the right way for your organisation to meet your goals
- Action – implement the right solutions and follow up on results

Create a culture of inclusion in your company – and enhance talent attraction and innovation

Module #2

Eliminating the Barriers – create a culture of inclusion by reducing Unconscious Bias and other barriers to inclusivity

Digging into science, best practice and the latest research on Diversity Intelligence and the greatest barriers to diversity

- The greatest barrier to inclusivity is unconscious bias. Focus here is on uncovering the nature of unconscious bias and how it affects decision making-processes by diving into cutting-edge knowledge from the world of research; neuroscience, psychology, sociology and behaviour
- The concept of 'covering' cripples professional performance – how to create workplace environments where people feel comfortable being themselves
- Create customized 'nudges' (i.e. behavioural changes) for specific situations and in specific teams

Acquire the knowledge and tools to design and facilitate excellent and impactful training programs

Module #3

Building and Implementing Strategies for Cultures of Inclusion

Navigating the minefields of exclusion and homogeneity

- Mapping present and future using the LEGO® SERIOUS PLAY® methodology
- Creating gender balance and inclusivity from top to bottom & the global war for talents – how to win
- Digging into the knowledge and toolbox of change management
- Creating and implementing individual D&I strategies

Take Away:
The Diversity & Inclusion Toolbox – allowing you to promote and implement successful strategies and innovative solutions

METHODOLOGY

All courses and modules are developed specifically D&I Master Class by accomplished business executives, entrepreneurs and consultants with strong academic background. Materials used are research-based and practical methods are tried and tested. We use:

- LEGO® SERIOUS PLAY®
- Quantitative statistics and qualitative processes
- Experiential learning exercises developed by internationally renowned psychologists and actors

RESULT

In order to gain both knowledge and skills as well as the ability to initiate a fundamental cultural change in the organization, participants in the D&I Master Class attain the following skills:

- The ability to attract and retain key employees and new talents
- Practically applicable knowledge of 'Diversity Intelligence' and the ability to balance goals and ambitions with personal values
- An understanding of what Diversity Intelligence is and what it can do for the organization as a whole - as well as the ability and the tools for managing teams with a high degree of diversity
- Individually-organized strategies to ensure long-term, dedicated efforts in creating inclusive cultures in participants' own teams and organizations
- Become familiar with cutting-edge methods in creating innovative solutions and results

“If you do what you always did, you get the results you always got”

ABOUT LIVING INSTITUTE:

What we do

It is our job to improve our client's ability to enhance diversity in their organisation and profit from it. We do so by enabling companies and their people to conduct business effectively by infusing Diversity Intelligence. As a market leader, LIVING INSTITUTE provides training and counseling to a large number of companies with a diversity agenda and an ambition to enhance Diversity Intelligence on all levels in the organization.

We do so guided by our mantra: Research based knowledge made practically applicable.

Our faculty

Our consultants and facilitators are leading anthropologists, sociologists, actors, country-culture experts, business consultants and business people with vast practical and global experience.

Our history

LIVING INSTITUTE was founded in April 2004 as a provider of high quality solutions, training and workshops in general, cultural awareness and country specific cross-cultural training.

In the early years, LIVING INSTITUTE focused on cross-cultural training and the wellbeing of expatriate families during the transition process aiming to increase the retention rate, but in recent years we have extended our services to promote Diversity Intelligence on all levels in the organization accelerating cultures of inclusion and innovation.

In 2014 we introduced new solutions for companies with an ambition to create a gender balanced organisation. Also, in 2014 we made it possible to become culturally intelligent when ever you want and where ever you are by introducing online learning programs.

The Global Task Force

The increase in our global activities has resulted in the formation of LIVING INSTITUTE's global task force. Teams of specialists traveling all over the world to solve tasks on location for our international clients.
